"I've seen first-hand your courage at work. Your love makes shadows of sorrow disappear. You look for the good in the midst of pain."

Volunteers Are the Constant We Need In Turbulent Times

You bring stability and strength in an ever-changing world.

I don't know if you have noticed, but lately, there has been a lot of news about how uncertain times have become. It does not matter which political party is in power or the strength of the economy; there will always be reasons why we should pull back in the face of uncertainty.

Volunteers, however, see the world from a different point of view. Instead of walking away from uncertainty, they move toward the pain in our community. Instead of looking for shelter from the bad fortune of others, volunteers weave a safety net, through a thousand acts of kindness, that supports the weakest of us all.

I've seen first-hand your courage at work. Your love makes shadows of sorrow disappear. You look for good in the midst of pain. You take action to improve the lives of those you can reach. You care for people in need.

Those looking in from the outside will wonder, why? You can't help everyone. What difference can you make?

You only have to volunteer a couple of times to realize the question is not "Why," but "How." How can I help someone else? Volunteers respond out of a sense of duty for the well-being of someone else. They act when others hide or look away.

Thank you for your service. Your acts of kindness bring stability in times of uncertainty. Our community is a better place to live because of you.

Since 2006, Linda has helped families whose homes have been flooded or whose belongings were burned in wildfires, and she has provided food for people who lost everything due to natural disasters. Linda represents the heart of our volunteers who are willing to take action for the sake of those in desperate situations. Thank you for serving. You are making a difference!

Ivan and Marita have provided over 800 rides to low-income seniors since 2010. They enjoy the new friendships they have made through Provide-A-Ride as they get to spend part of their day with clients. The flexibility in the Provide-A-Ride program enables them to serve, maximize time with loved ones, and get to enjoy time traveling. Thank you to all our volunteer drivers!

PROVIDE-A-RIDE CLIENTS

Imogene is thankful for her blessings, including having transportation services for medical appointments through RSVP Provide-A-Ride. Her family members who live nearby often have difficulty taking time off from work. She is thankful that keeping her medical appointments is not a burden that her family has to bear. Because of RSVP Provide-A-Ride, Imogene no longer worries about getting to the doctor.

424 seniors received 6,065 rides to medical appointments.
